

WELCOME TO PRE-MARITAL MENTORING!

Research shows that couples who have counseling before their wedding have a 30% higher marital success rate than those who do not.* We want to help set you up for success in your marriage by providing you with support, skills and education!

How does it work?

Each engaged couple is assigned to a mentor couple who has ten (10) or more years of marriage experience. Each mentor couple has also received training to provide mentoring and can model what it means to have a Christ-centered marriage. The mentors help debrief the relationship assessments, provide spiritual guidance and offer encouragement. They are not professional counselors.

What will we talk about during the sessions?

You will discuss your marital expectations for roles and responsibilities, skills for communicating and resolving conflicts, financial management skills, sexual relationship, family of origin, and much more! You should expect to be challenged, strengthened, educated, and better prepared for your upcoming marriage. You will probably experience some laughs, some tears, and some pleasant surprises! In addition, you will identify some growth areas, learn some new marriage skills and gain a realistic expectation of what marriage to your partner will be like!

Although the program is designed to cover certain topics, your mentors can tailor the program to fit your individual needs. Required homework assignments are given prior to each session to enhance your understanding and promote discussion of the material.

What assessments are used?

There are two assessments you will each be asked to complete before you start: the SYMBIS and the Taylor Johnson Temperament Analysis (TJTA). The SYMBIS provides information on your personality style, values and readiness for marriage. The TJTA provides more information on your personality and how that fits with your future spouse's personality. Neither of these assessments are tests and there is no way to "fail" either one. Your marriage mentors will review the results with you so you can grow in your understanding of one another.

What is the cost?

The total cost is $161. You will be asked to pay $35 of this online when you take the SYMBIS assessment and the remaining $126 needs to be paid directly to Rolling Hills Church (cash or check). This $126 covers the TJTA and several books. The pre-marital mentors are providing their services free of charge.

When should I start? It's best to start this process at least six (6) months before your wedding date. If you are starting later than that, try to get all your paperwork, fees and assessments done right away so there are no delays.

What happens following our premarital sessions?

If you are getting married at Rolling Hills Church or by a Rolling Hills pastor (see below under Getting married by a pastor at Rolling Hills for more info), your mentors will give feedback to your pastor about your readiness to marry. They will either affirm your decision to marry, recommend you move forward with additional support (e.g. professional counseling) or recommend you reconsider your marriage timeline because of issues and/or concerns uncovered during the mentoring process. Your mentors will have discussed these recommendations with you prior to making them known to the pastor(s).

Do I have to be a member at Rolling Hills or a Christian to participate?

No, you don't. Anyone is welcome. You should know that we will be counseling from a Christian-perspective and the advice we give is consistent with biblical values. Choosing to move forward with mentoring means that you are aware of this approach.

What do I do to get started? You'll need to complete your intake form, pay your fees and complete both online assessments. After this, you'll be assigned to a mentor couple! The mentor couple will contact you to set up a time and place to start meeting. You can expect to meet with the mentoring couple six (6) times before you get married and up to two (2) times after you get married if possible.

If you haven't done so already, contact wholeness@rollinghills.org with any questions and to get this process started.
